About this edition

This is the third edition of this recurring report (delivered every 4 days). As with edition 2, this one leads with status updates on previously-reported leads and genuinely new opportunities found since the last pass. For the full standing list of leads not mentioned again below (because nothing has changed), see the October 22 and October 25 editions.

Status updates on previously-reported leads

- City of McDonough Christmas Parade & Tree Lighting — still no 2026 date published. The historical pattern is now doubly confirmed: a Saturday in late November/early December, tree lighting around 5pm, parade around 6pm on the Square. Still the most actionable unconfirmed near-term lead in this report — a direct check of mcdonoughga.org or Main Street McDonough remains the only way to pin a date.
- Jingle & Mingle Holiday Market (Junior League of Atlanta) — the JLA's own event page now shows a single date, Sunday, Nov 1, 2026 (no hours listed, no second source confirming it). The earlier three-day format was actually the 2025 inaugural edition, not 2026 — so a single-day Nov 1 format now looks more likely. Nov 1 is 3 days out — confirm directly with holidaymarket@jlatlanta.org before relying on it.
- Locust Grove — Christmas in the Grove — still no 2026 date. The 2025 pattern (Saturday Nov 29, 12–7pm at City Park, arts/crafts festival + 5pm light parade) is reconfirmed as the template to expect.
- Hampton — Christmas Tree Lighting (Hampton Depot) — still no 2026 date, but a specific past instance strengthens the pattern: 2024 ran Thursday, Nov 28, 7–9pm, Hampton Depot Courtyard, free, hosted by Main Street Hampton.

- Marietta Square Merry Market — still no 2026 date; same organizer contact (downtownmarietta@gmail.com). 2025 ran Saturday, Dec 6 at Atherton Square.
- Connecting Henry — Community Cares Toy Shop — no new sponsorship tiers or 2026 toy-shop date found. Donation channels unchanged; the 30th-anniversary "$30/month" campaign remains the only 2026-specific detail.
- Diwali (Nov 8, now 10 days out) — still no Henry County or McDonough-area event found. One new data point: Atlanta City Hall's Diwali celebration with Mayor Dickens and the Coalition of Hindus of North America is now a confirmed 3-year-running annual tradition (2024, and a "third annual" in Oct 2025) — no 2026 date announced yet, but the track record makes a repeat likely. Worth a direct check with the Mayor's events office given that history.
- Small Business Saturday (Nov 28, now exactly 4 weeks out) — Henry County still has no single bookable event (Choose Henry's Main Street routing only). Metro Atlanta now has a genuinely new, concrete lead — see below.

New opportunities — Metro Atlanta

Atlanta BeltLine / Atlanta Indie Market — Small Business Saturday Marketplace. A real, recurring, vendor-bookable event (the 2025 edition ran at BeltLine trail locations, pop-up tents alongside the Marketplace shipping containers). Booth fees ran roughly $43–$103 for a 10×10 tent (vendor supplies own tables/chairs/display). Organized by Atlanta Indie Market + Atlanta BeltLine Inc., who also run monthly vendor pop-ups at four BeltLine locations year-round — not just the one Saturday. No 2026 vendor-application link found yet — watch Eventeny and Atlanta Indie Market's own channels. Fit: the first genuinely bookable Small Business Saturday opportunity found in this report (Henry County's version is routing/visibility only, not a vendor slot) — strong foot-traffic visibility in Atlanta proper, and the monthly pop-up option is a lower-commitment way to test it before Nov 28.

Conyers Christmas Parade (Rockdale County) — confirmed for 2026. Saturday, Dec 5, 2026, 2–3pm, Olde Town Pavilion, Olde Town Conyers. A new county for this report. No route or vendor/sponsor info found yet — check the City of Conyers or Olde Town Conyers page directly. Fit: a clean, dated, confirmed 2026 event — rare in this report so far — worth a quick inquiry into parade sponsorship or a vendor presence nearby.

Duluth — Deck the Hall / Handmade Holiday Market (Gwinnett County). Confirmed Saturday, Dec 5, 2026, roughly 2–7pm. Organized by the Atlanta Foundation for Public Spaces. The main vendor-application deadline was Oct 26, 2026 — already passed, but a separate food-truck/vendor deadline (Nov 21, 2026) may still be open. Fit: closes the Gwinnett/Duluth gap flagged as untested in edition 2. Worth emailing events@duluthga.net about late/waitlist spots or the food-vendor track, and flagging the earlier application deadline for 2027 planning.

Checked, nothing new to report yet

Several Cobb/Fayette/Newton/Clayton cities have real, recurring annual holiday events, but none has published a 2026 date yet as of this edition: Smyrna (“Home for the Holidays” tree lighting; “Kris Kringle Market,” 40+ vendors in 2025), Kennesaw (annual tree lighting at Depot Park, no attached vendor market), Fayetteville (“Christmas on Main Street” parade, 2025 ran Nov 29; contact Main Street Fayetteville, 770-719-4173), Peachtree City (“Hometown Holiday” tradition, no recent listing found), and Covington (“Lighting of the Square,” 2025 ran Nov 20). Jonesboro turned up no holiday event at all in this pass — may genuinely have nothing, or may need a more targeted search next time.

Scope note

Several of the cities above typically announce dates 3–5 weeks out, meaning most would now be imminent — worth rechecking specifically in the next edition (Nov 2).

This report recurs every 4 days. Each edition leads with status changes and new leads, and skips repeating anything unchanged from the prior edition.
