About this edition

This is the fourth edition of this recurring report (delivered every 4 days). As with prior editions, this one leads with status updates on previously-reported leads and genuinely new opportunities found since the last pass. For the full standing list of leads not mentioned again below (because nothing has changed), see the October 22, October 25, and October 29 editions.

Status updates on previously-reported leads

- City of McDonough Christmas Parade & Tree Lighting — still no 2026 date found, even after a dedicated search this edition (including specifically checking for a cancellation — an old headline about a cancelled McDonough parade turned out to be from 2021/COVID, not 2026). This is now the most-flagged unresolved lead across all four editions. A direct call to the city remains the only way to close this out.
- Jingle & Mingle Holiday Market (Junior League of Atlanta) — the JLA's own page still showed Sunday, Nov 1, 2026 (today) as of this edition's research — no second source ever confirmed it, and the actual 2025 edition was a three-day Nov 13–15 run, so this single-day listing may have been a placeholder. By the time this report is read, it's either already happened or didn't — not confirmable after the fact via search.
- Locust Grove — Christmas in the Grove — still no 2026 date; the 2025 pattern (Saturday Nov 29, noon–7pm, City Park) remains the template to expect.
- Hampton — Christmas Tree Lighting — still no 2026 date; a new data point strengthens the pattern: 2025 ran Thursday, Nov 27, 7pm, at Terry Jones Depot Park.

- Stockbridge Holiday Festival & Tree Lighting — still no 2026 date, and now a complication: two conflicting 2025 listings surfaced — one at the Stockbridge Amphitheater (Dec 5) and a separate “Welcome to Grinchville” event (Dec 20) at VyStar Amphitheater. Unclear whether these are the same event rebranded or two different events — needs direct clarification with the city before relying on either pattern.
- Marietta Square Merry Market — still no 2026 date; the city typically announces in late November, so this is worth rechecking next edition.
- Diwali (Nov 8, now exactly 1 week out) — still no Henry County event found. New nuance worth flagging: the Atlanta City Hall Diwali tradition has not historically run in November — 2024 ran Oct 28, and 2025 ran in October as the “third annual.” Given that pattern, the 2026 edition may have already happened in October and simply been missed by this report’s 4-day cadence — worth a direct check with the Coalition of Hindus of North America (cohna.org) or the Mayor’s office on whether it already occurred, rather than continuing to list it as upcoming.
- Atlanta BeltLine Small Business Saturday Marketplace — still no 2026 Nov 28 listing found, but a useful pricing benchmark surfaced: a comparable fall 2026 BeltLine Indie Market charged $100 (non-refundable) for a 10×10 retail booth. Also worth knowing: the BeltLine gives priority placement to vendors who complete its own Small Business Assessment on beltline.org — worth doing that step now, ahead of the Nov 28 listing going live.

New opportunities — Metro Atlanta

Peachtree City — Hometown Holiday, confirmed Saturday, Dec 5, 2026. Sourced directly from the city’s own 2026 sponsorship brochure — one of the few clean, confirmed 2026 dates found across any edition of this report. Format historically includes crafts, food, a gift market, and a tree lighting with Santa arriving at 7pm. Fit: a real, dated, sponsorable event in Fayette County, a city not previously covered in this report.

Kennesaw “Holiday Extravaganza” (light display). Has published 2026 logistics, per the city’s own site: vendor/participant registration deadline Nov 15, 2026, installation required by Nov 29, 2026. Distinct from the (still undated) Kennesaw tree-lighting ceremony already flagged. Fit: a more process-concrete Kennesaw lead with an actual deadline to act on.

Arts Clayton Merry Market (Jonesboro, Clayton County). A real, recurring vendor market, Saturdays in November and December, 10am–3pm, 136 South Main Street, Jonesboro. Fills the Jonesboro gap flagged as empty in edition 3. Fit: genuinely bookable vendor-market format in a county not otherwise covered, with no single date to wait on — multiple Saturdays to choose from.

Clayton County Christmas Parade (Jonesboro). 2025 pattern: Saturday, Dec 6, 3pm, Jonesboro City Center. No 2026 date confirmed yet, but a real, named, recurring event worth tracking next edition.

Checked, no change / nothing new

Smyrna (“Home for the Holidays” / Kris Kringle Market), Covington (“Lighting of the Square”), and Fayetteville (“Christmas on Main Street,” now apparently rebranded “Miracle on Main Street”) — all real, recurring events, but still no published 2026 date as of this edition.

Scope note

With most undated leads now clustering around a “should announce any week” window, the next edition (Nov 5) should prioritize rechecking McDonough, Stockbridge, Marietta Square Merry Market, and Smyrna/Covington/Fayetteville specifically — these are the remaining gaps most likely to resolve soon.

This report recurs every 4 days. Each edition leads with status changes and new leads, and skips repeating anything unchanged from the prior edition.
