Trending now — 1 topic with a genuine brand angle

1	Today, Nov 10, is the U.S. Marine Corps Birthday — marking the 1775 founding of the Continental Marines. A real, dated-today national observance.	National Day Calendar — November 10 observances	Instagram/LinkedIn, brief respectful acknowledgment. "Happy birthday to the U.S. Marine Corps — 1775 to today. If you've got Marine veterans or active-duty Marines among your regulars or staff, today's worth a quiet nod." No deals/ discount framing and no product mention — a pure respect/ community post, distinct in content and tone from yesterday's deals-focused Veterans Day post (a different specific occasion — the Corps' own founding anniversary, not the broader Veterans Day — and a tribute rather than a commercial gesture).

Skipped / unconfirmed despite extensive searching: Target's early Black Friday sale results — no post-event recap exists yet. NRF Halloween final spending — still only the pre-season $13.5B forecast; no actual post-season results found anywhere, even after a fresh search attempt. Current gas prices — most recent confirmable figure is a week old, held rather than present a stale number as current. Convenience-store industry news — nothing dated past May–July 2026. California nitrous-oxide retail-ban bills — real and active but status is unconfirmed/conflicting across sources, too murky to present as “trending now.” Pennsylvania HB 1425 vape directory — likely the same underlying law already covered Oct 24 under a different framing; held to avoid a duplicate. TikTok trends — nothing confirmed dated to November. Loyalty-program news — nothing dated to this week.

Compliance check: the one idea implies no pricing, no overconsumption, and no underage-adjacent framing — it’s a neutral, respectful tribute post with zero deal/discount language and no alcohol/tobacco/CBD product mention.
