

Moolah Points — 4 Creative Social Posts (Batch 2)

Distinct from `moolahpoints-content-strategy-2026-07.md` and the first static-image batch. Built to match the real brand system extracted from the attached Instagram reference post ("Your regulars deserve more than a receipt"), so these are ready to generate with no post-editing needed — exact copy is written directly into each prompt.

Brand system reverse-engineered from your reference image (reuse this for all future Moolah creative): - Background: warm cream/parchment, ~#F5EEDD - Accent: rich mustard-gold, ~#D6A429 (used for gradients, the logo mark, and the second clause color in subheadlines) - Text: near-black charcoal, ~#232323 - Logo mark: three bold, overlapping quotation-mark/"D"-shaped forms in a row — solid gold at top-right of the frame, and the same shape repeated in dark charcoal, partially cropped off the bottom-left corner, as a bookend - Headline font: heavy, tightly-tracked condensed sans-serif, all caps - Body/URL font: friendly rounded sans-serif, sentence case - Signature visual device: a warm, photoreal (stylized-commercial-photography, not flat vector) scene of a merchant and customer sharing a delighted, slightly exaggerated moment, with a glowing gold-teal holographic coin/token bearing the Moolah mark hovering above a gift or exchange point - Layout: URL pill badge top-left → gold logo top-right → bold 2-line headline → two-tone subheadline (gold clause + charcoal clause) → gold gradient CTA pill/banner → arch-topped photo panel filling the bottom ~45% of the frame, bleeding to the edges

Post A — Smoke Shop / Vape: "They Know Your Name. Now Reward Theirs."

Platform: Instagram/Facebook feed Format: 4:5 vertical (1080x1350)

Caption: "Your regulars already know exactly what they're grabbing before they hit the counter. Moolah Points makes sure you're rewarding that the same way — automatically."

Hashtags: #SmokeShopBusiness #VapeShopOwner #CustomerLoyalty #IndependentRetail #RetailTech

Full image-generation prompt (no post-editing needed — render all text exactly as quoted):

Below that, a large bold two-line headline in a heavy, tightly-tracked condensed sans-serif, all caps, dark charcoal (#232323), left-aligned: "THEY KNOW YOUR NAME." on the first line, "NOW REWARD THEIRS." on the second line.

Beneath the headline, a subheadline in the same friendly rounded sans-serif, sentence case, two-toned: the phrase "Flavor bonuses, restock alerts, referral perks —" in mustard-gold (#D6A429), followed immediately by "running automatically." in dark charcoal.

Bottom ~45% of the frame: a large arch-topped photo panel (rounded top corners forming an arch), bleeding to the bottom and side edges. Inside the arch: a warm, photoreal commercial-photography-style scene inside a smoke/vape shop with neon signage and backlit product display shelves softly blurred in the background. A stylish, slightly exaggerated shopkeeper character (colorful fitted vest, glasses, warm expressive smile) hands a small gift-wrapped box to a delighted customer character (trendy streetwear, hand raised to chest in surprised joy) who is reaching for it. Hovering above the exchange, a glowing gold-and-teal holographic circular token/coin bearing a small stylized "M" or Moolah quotation-mark glyph, casting soft light onto both characters. Warm golden pendant lighting throughout.

Overall mood: warm, joyful, premium-but-approachable small-business marketing aesthetic, consistent with a modern loyalty/rewards fintech brand. High resolution, sharp text rendering, no placeholder or lorem-ipsum text anywhere — render every quoted string exactly as written above.

Post B — Convenience Store: "The Coffee Run That Remembers You Back"

Platform: Instagram/Facebook feed Format: 4:5 vertical (1080x1350)

Caption: "Same order. Same rush. Same person behind the counter who never has to ask what you want. That's the relationship a punch card can't replicate — Moolah Points does it automatically, on a phone number alone."

Hashtags: #ConvenienceStore #CStoreLife #CustomerLoyalty #SmallBusinessOwner #RetailTech

Full image-generation prompt (no post-editing needed — render all text exactly as quoted):

Below that, a large bold two-line headline in a heavy, tightly-tracked condensed sans-serif, all caps, dark charcoal (#232323), left-aligned: "THE COFFEE RUN" on the first line, "THAT REMEMBERS YOU BACK." on the second line.

Beneath the headline, a subheadline in the same friendly rounded sans-serif, sentence case, two-toned: the phrase "Bonus points on their go-to order —" in mustard-gold (#D6A429), followed immediately by "no app, just a phone number." in dark charcoal.

Below that, a full-width rounded rectangle banner filled with a mustard-gold gradient, containing bold dark-charcoal text: "Moolah Points makes every quick stop feel personal."

Overall mood: warm, energetic-but-personal, premium-but-approachable small-business marketing aesthetic. High resolution, sharp text rendering, no placeholder or lorem-ipsum text anywhere — render every quoted string exactly as written above.

Post C — Liquor: "Their Usual, Their Reward, Already Waiting"

Platform: Instagram/Facebook feed Format: 4:5 vertical (1080x1350)

(A different angle from your existing "Your regulars deserve more than a receipt" post — same brand system, fresh headline/scene so it doesn't duplicate the reference.)

Caption: "They don't have to ask what's new — you already texted them. That's the difference between a loyalty program and an actual relationship with your regulars."

Hashtags: #LiquorStoreOwner #IndependentLiquorStore #CustomerLoyalty #SmallBusinessMarketing #RetailTech

Full image-generation prompt (no post-editing needed — render all text exactly as quoted):

Portrait 4:5 marketing graphic, warm cream/parchment background (#F5EEDD). Top-right: a logo mark made of three bold, overlapping quotation-mark/"D"-shaped forms in a row, solid mustard-gold (#D6A429), flat design, no outline.

Beneath the headline, a subheadline in the same friendly rounded sans-serif, sentence case, two-toned: the phrase "Double points on new arrivals, birthday pours, referral perks —" in mustard-gold (#D6A429), followed immediately by "triggered the moment they walk in." in dark charcoal.

Bottom ~45% of the frame: a large arch-topped photo panel (rounded top corners forming an arch), bleeding to the bottom and side edges. Inside the arch: a warm, photoreal commercial-photography-style scene inside a liquor store with wine and spirits shelves softly blurred in the background, warm pendant lighting. A confident female shopkeeper character (stylish patterned blouse, warm genuine smile) hands a small gift-wrapped bottle box tied with ribbon to a delighted male customer character (smart-casual outfit, surprised joyful expression, hand near chest) reaching to take it. Hovering above the exchange, a glowing gold-and-teal holographic circular token/coin bearing a small stylized "M" or Moolah quotation-mark glyph, casting soft light onto both characters.

Overall mood: warm, intimate, premium-but-approachable small-business marketing aesthetic. High resolution, sharp text rendering, no placeholder or lorem-ipsum text anywhere — render every quoted string exactly as written above.

Post D — Cross-vertical: "No App. No Card. Just Show Up." (SMS-speed hook)

Platform: Instagram/Facebook feed + works well as a Story/Reel cover too Format: 4:5 vertical (1080x1350); note at bottom for a 9:16 (1080x1920) variant

Caption: "The best loyalty program is the one your customer doesn't have to think about. No download, no card to dig for — just a phone number and a text the second they've earned something."

Hashtags: #SMSMarketing #LoyaltyProgram #RetailTech #SmallBusinessMarketing #IndependentRetail

Beneath the headline, a subheadline in the same friendly rounded sans-serif, sentence case, two-toned: the phrase "One phone number, every reward —" in mustard-gold (#D6A429), followed immediately by "texted the second they qualify." in dark charcoal.

Below that, a full-width rounded rectangle banner filled with a mustard-gold gradient, containing bold dark-charcoal text: "Moolah Points turns a phone number into a loyalty program."

Bottom ~45% of the frame: a large arch-topped photo panel (rounded top corners forming an arch), bleeding to the bottom and side edges. Inside the arch: a warm, photoreal commercial-photography-style scene at a busy retail checkout counter, softly motion-blurred shelves in the background suggesting a quick, fast-paced stop. A customer character mid-stride, one hand tapping a phone against a payment terminal, the other hand holding a smartphone that's lighting up with a glowing gold-teal notification burst above the screen (visualizing an incoming reward text), genuine quick smile on their face as if pleasantly surprised mid-rush. A cashier character in the background giving a friendly nod. The glowing gold-teal holographic circular token motif (bearing a small stylized "M" or Moolah quotation-mark glyph) appears again here as the notification burst above the phone, tying it visually to the other posts in this set.

Overall mood: fast, modern, frictionless, premium-but-approachable small-business marketing aesthetic. High resolution, sharp text rendering, no placeholder or lorem-ipsum text anywhere — render every quoted string exactly as written above.

Quick reference table

#	Vertical	Headline	Core hook
A	Smoke shop / vape	"They Know Your Name. Now Reward Theirs."	Recognition → automatic reward
