Trending now — 1 topic with a genuine brand angle

1	Veterans Day is Wednesday, Nov 11, 2026 (2 days out) — several national chains have confirmed military-appreciation offers, including Circle K offering a free medium hot or iced coffee with a military ID, a concrete example from a named convenience-store competitor, distinct from the generic "stock up" holiday-prep angle already used this month.	Fox affiliates' 2026 Veterans Day deals roundups	Instagram/LinkedIn, owner-to-owner goodwill nudge. "Veterans Day is Wednesday — Circle K's doing a free coffee for anyone with a military ID. Doesn't have to be a corporate-size gesture: even a small 'thank you' offer (a free coffee, a discount on one item) for veterans and active military that day is the kind of thing regulars remember long after the holiday's over." No pricing claim about RetailzPOS itself — a goodwill/community idea grounded in a real, dated, named competitor example.

Skipped, no genuine angle or unconfirmed, despite extensive searching: Target's early Black Friday sale results — no post-event recap/figures published yet. Halloween final spending tally — NRF still hasn't published actual post-season results. Current gas prices — the most recent confirmable figure is 6 days old, held rather than present a stale number as current. Wisconsin's vape-registry lawsuit — real and ongoing but too murky (mixed/unclear dates across an injunction denial, an appeals ruling, and a pending bill) to present as “trending now.” TikTok sounds/challenges — nothing confirmed for November. Loyalty-program news — nothing dated to this week.

Compliance check: the one idea implies no pricing, no overconsumption, and no underage-adjacent framing — it’s a neutral goodwill/community-gesture idea tied to a real, dated, named competitor offer, with no alcohol/tobacco/CBD product mention.
